

L. P. Fisher, newspaper advertising agents, 21 Merchants' Exchange, San Francisco, is our authorized agent. This paper is kept on file in his office.

THE POISON OF CIGARETTES.

The use of cigarettes is not merely the use of tobacco, it is a vice itself. In reformatories where the cure of the opium, alcohol and cigarette habits is a business, cigarette patients are not restricted from smoking cigars or pipes, which are regarded as comparatively harmless. The cigarette works a special evil of its own which tobacco in other forms does not effect. This evil result may be due to drugs, or to the paper rappers, or to the fact that the smoke of cigarettes is almost always inhaled into the lungs, while cigar smoke is not. As to that, let the experts decide; about the fact of the effect there is no doubt and no dearth of evidence. No other form of tobacco eats into the will as cigarettes do. The adult man can carry on a good deal of poison of one kind or another without disaster, and his duty being fixed and his will formed, he is usually able to make his minor vices subservient to his more important obligations. And so it happens that it is a matter of constant observation in clubs, and whenever there are intelligent men who allow themselves all the creature indulgences that they dare, that these experienced persons are constantly "swearing off" cigarettes for longer or shorter periods, and smoking cigars instead. The cigarette fetters begin to gall, and they fling it off. But young boys do not do that. They have not discretion enough for one thing, and, for another, cigars cost too much for them, and cannot be smoked surreptitiously in every spare moment. It is the infernal cheapness of the cigarette and its adaptability for concealment that tempt the schoolboy's callow intelligence.—Harper's Weekly.

WELL CIRCULATED.

The last issue of McEwen's Letter has the following:
The chord touched by this letter reaches far, and answering vibrations come from remote quarters. Within the week the manager of the Chicago News, the manager of the Baltimore Herald, a clergyman of Boston, another in Hartford, two newspaper men of New York, a mining superintendent in Nevada, a brewer of Minneapolis have become annual subscribers. These men are strangers to me, but nearly all accompany their money orders with letters applauding the Letter's purpose and work. The manager of the Baltimore Herald informs me that a paper which asks for neither subscriptions nor advertisements is something he wants to see once a week just to refresh him. My readers, I know, will be pleased to learn that the circulation is extending over the whole Pacific Coast, each week bringing orders from towns not before served. In San Francisco the sale has fallen off somewhat since the third number, novelty no longer attracting the merely curious. The total circulation stands now at about 12,000, which is more than satisfactory. Half that number would greatly exceed my original expectation.

ARTHUR McEWEN.

Want Prendergast Hung.

Chicago, Ill., March 24.—Thomas Higgins, was hanged in the jail here at 12:07 today. He murdered Peter McDoole, a city employee, last September. He made little defense and seemed to feel worse at the thought of standing on the scaffold with Prendergast than at the thought of hanging. He had a great contempt for the murderer of Mayor Harrison. The prisoners in the jail were greatly interested in the affair. The noise of the falling trap reached the prisoners, and cries of "Hang Prendergast!" could be heard from all parts of the jail.

A mob of nearly 1000 men gathered in front of the jail, and hoisted, yelled and groaned for Prendergast. The police charged the mob repeatedly and finally succeeded in driving it away.

The Revival services of Evangelist Crittenton at Odd Fellows' Hall, are being largely attended, and as Mr. Crittenton is an interesting and persuasive talker, many converts are being made.
